Media release

4 June 2009

Swiss International Air Lines moves to Terminal 1 at London Heathrow Airport on 11 June 2009.

Significant investments in the refurbishment of Terminal 1 are set to provide SWISS's customers with a more convenient and comfortable way through the airport. The bright and spacious check-in area is designed to create a more organised and less congested environment, which in turn will lessen waiting time and stressful queuing.

SWISS check-in counters with two dedicated desks for first class and business class passengers will be in Zone F and G in the heart of Terminal 1. The SWISS ticket desk is located opposite the check-in counters.

In addition, SWISS's HON Circle and Miles & More Senator members, as well as SWISS first and business class passengers can enjoy the designated first or business class areas in the new Star Alliance CIP Lounge. Both areas will feature private seating, complimentary food and beverages as well as shower facilities and the latest in business technology including Wi-Fi Internet access. The bmi lounge welcomes Miles & More Frequent Travellers.

Gregor Koncilja, country manager for the UK and Ireland for SWISS, commented, "We are very much looking forward to moving to our new home and are pleased and proud to be one of the first Star Alliance airlines to do so. We are confident that Terminal 1 with improved facilities and lounges will offer an increased comfort and better travel experience to our customers before they even step on board."
